

I went to XM radio for the variety that standard radio no longer offered. I enjoy all the programing that XM offers me as a paying subscriber to the service. The key word to that last sentence was I pay for a service and I feel that you have no rights to tell me what I should be able to listen to or receive on that service. The FCC is an outdated organization that tries to force the strong arm of religion and morals upon a society that has choices and the God given intelligence to make choices. Please butt out of my XM service and focus yours and the goverment energy on important issues like war, economy, and a president who will hopefully be out of office shortly. Thank you very much

Kevin Van Zwol